PASTOR'S PRAYER

Almighty God, You created all things and made them very good. You are our God of order. You sustain, care and provide for your creation by your mighty right hand. Every blade of grass and every color declares your glory, honor and praise. You reign as King of kings and Lord of lords. You are absolutely Sovereign over all your creation. We confess our eyes often deceive us. We are unable to see everything in subjection to your rule and reign when we look into our lives. We see the chaos of wars and suffering. We consider the constant battle to order our own lives and the seemingly endless interruptions and roadblocks in our own agendas and we assume you are also frustrated by world events not to mention our constant stumbling in sin and temptations. Lord, what is man that you are mindful of us? What causes you to care for us so personally? You have granted us your mercy anew, afresh this morning. You constantly remember us and visit with us. This morning, Lord, we ask for you to so remember us and visit with us that we may receive your preached Word by the power of your Spirit so faith may sprout up where frustration has been so prominent this week. Cause confident hope to appear where anxiety and worry has so triumphed in our hearts this week. May abiding Christ-like love flower where criticism has grown this week.. We ask you to do these things in us, Lord Jesus, by the power of your Spirit for we are not able to reign over even our own hearts much less our lives. Grant your grace to triumph and reign in our hearts this morning for our good and for your glory. Amen & Amen.
