

I. The beauty of childlike trust (vv. 7–8)

II. The love of the Father (vv. 9–11)

III. Recovering childlike trust

Application Questions

- Do think of God as a loving father, or as an ungracious slave-driver, a reluctant stranger, an indulgent grandfather, a malicious tyrant, or some other distortion?
- Did you lose your joyful confidence in God because of bitterness toward him, or a sense of your own failure?
- How do you still live as an unloved orphan? Are there areas where you need to grow in asking, seeking, knocking, and expectantly trusting?

I. The beauty of childlike trust (vv. 7–8)

II. The love of the Father (vv. 9–11)

III. Recovering childlike trust

Application Questions

- Do think of God as a loving father, or as an ungracious slave-driver, a reluctant stranger, an indulgent grandfather, a malicious tyrant, or some other distortion?
- Did you lose your joyful confidence in God because of bitterness toward him, or a sense of your own failure?
- How do you still live as an unloved orphan? Are there areas where you need to grow in asking, seeking, knocking, and expectantly trusting?