

Psalm 2

The Reign of the Lord's Anointed

Why such turbulence ...

I. One World Under God

A. Kings of Earth

B. Lord of Heaven

II. A Divine Conversation

A. The Father's Promise

B. The Ends of the Earth

III. An Astounding Fulfillment

A. Man's Plot – God's Plan

B. Subduing Hearts

IV. A Call to Obeisance

A. Kneel

B. Or Be Broken

V. An Election Year

A. Feet of Clay

B. Eternal King

... with Jesus on the throne?

Children, Listen ...

1. Who is Lord and Ruler of all things?

2. What are all kings of the earth called to do?

3. How can God's people take comfort even when they live under wicked rulers?

INFINITE GOD – PUNY KINGS

This evening we begin a new series called Infinite God – Puny Kings. The preaching schedule will take us through our presidential election right up to the Sunday following Inauguration Day. Each week we plan to examine passages that display God's dealings with earthly kings involved in the affairs of His people. While a series on Kings of Israel and Judah would also make for a great series, God's dominion over the rulers of nations should prove to provide great assurance for us in turbulent times in our nation, whatever the outcome of our election might be. We begin with Psalm 2 which reminds us that our God is infinite and mighty while kings and rulers of the earth are puny and weak. As we journey through the History of Redemption, we will see how the sovereign hand of God has always ruled over even the mightiest kings of earth to achieve His ends. And we will see how He continues to accomplish His good and perfect will through His providence. Special attention will be given throughout the series to the Lord's Anointed, His Son, Messiah, our King Jesus, the true focus of Psalm 2.