1. Joshua begins our text this week with an overview of Old Testament history. Why is it essential that we know our history? Why do you think so many today are ignorant or uninterested in it?
2. The "fear of the Lord" is a prominent theme in Scripture. What does it mean? In what ways can we "fear" the Lord in our daily lives?
3. In what ways is the "fear of the Lord" different for the believer and the unbeliever? In what ways is it the same?
4. What can we learn from Joshua's admonition to "choose for yourselves today" in terms of evangelism? What about in terms of discipleship?
5. The exclusivity of Christ is a controversial topic in today's pluralistic and post-truth world. What are some ways that we can take stands like Joshua did in out homes and workplace?
