

TWO RESURRECTIONS

John 5:24-29

I. Hearing and Believing Brings Spiritual Life

zōē - life

aiōnios – without end, never to cease, everlasting

krísis - to judge a person to be guilty and liable to punishment

metabainō - to change from one state to another

Ephesians 2:1, 4-6

1 Thessalonians 2:13

akouō - to hear, listen, understand, pay attention. (Describes the act of hearing or listening to a person with emphasis on the accurate understanding of that which is spoken.)

Ephesians 1:13

Colossians 1:5-6

Mark 4:9-12

Romans 10:8-17, 11:7-8

John 8:37-43

II. Jesus Is Eternal Life and Can Give It

echō - to have or possess objects or property (in the technical sense of having control over the use of such objects)

Genesis 1:1

Psalms 90:2

Exodus 3:13-14

Philippians 2:6-7

John 1:1-4

John 8:58

III. The Son of Man Will Judge

Daniel 7:13-14

Hebrews 4:14-15

IV. All Souls are Eternal

2 Corinthians 5:6-8

Luke 16:22-23

Genesis 1:26

Genesis 35:18-19

Ecclesiastes 12:7

Daniel 12:2

anástasis – resurrection, to raise, to rise up; to come back to life after having once died

zōē - life

krísis - to judge a person to be guilty and liable to punishment

Hebrews 9:27

Matthew 25:46

Revelation 20:11-15

Closing Thought: Jesus is telling these religious, self-righteous Jews the truth of who He is. He is of the same nature as God; and, while a distinct person, still equal to God. He is the One who has eternal life, and is declaring the realities of eternal life. There are two judgments, one for those who believe, and another for those who reject His words and remain spiritually dead. Every human being will live forever, either in heavenly perfection or in unthinkable torment. Every human being includes you! Will you hear Jesus' words or will you refuse to hear?