

Coming to a Head in 2024?

(January 9, 2024)

As 2024 rolls out, the question is what can we expect? As I've stated many times before, I am not a prophet or seer. I cannot tell anyone exactly what will occur because the Lord has not given me that knowledge.

However, I can offer my best guess and see what transpires. First, know that our national debt has just hit $34 trillion dollars. This is unsustainable. We are spending tons of money supporting other countries and those illegally here in this country. California has just announced that they will be providing free (funny word because it's not actually free, but paid for by taxpayers), healthcare to those who illegally waltz into the USA and land in California. This clearly isn't good to be in this position because this type of debt and willingness to ignore our nation's constitution means that a full-scale overthrow is in process.

Moreover, because of the amount of people illegally now resident within areas of the United States, many are full supporters of Arabs who live in Gaza (erroneously referred to as Palestinians). I'd like to remind people that years ago, anyone including Jews who lived there were referred to as Palestinians. It was only after Yassar Arafat's PLO changed the term to only include Arabs that Arabs and only Arabs living in Palestine were referred to as Palestinians. Most are unaware of this change and don't care because of their hatred of Jews and Israel.

God has announced beforehand that Israel would become a stone of stumbling for the entire world (Isaiah 8:14; Zechariah 12:3, etc.), and we are seeing this play out now. It doesn't matter what Israel has to put up with and defend. It is always seen as Israel's fault. Hamas is never the problem, somehow because of Israel's "apartheid." Yet, within Israel, Arabs can live peacefully. They can obtain employment and at their place of employment, they are allowed to pray five times a day in areas specifically designed for them. I'm not sure how this qualifies as apartheid.

Luai Ahmed ✓
@JustLuai

Follow

...

At least two million Arab Muslims are living proudly and happily in peace in Israel, with Israeli passports and an Israeli identity.

How many Jews live happily and proudly in Arab Muslim countries?

The level of atrocities committed by Hamas terrorists against Israeli civilians and IDF soldiers is unconscionable. Yet, I continually read of those who simply downplay or deny these things actually exist. Some of these folks call themselves Christians, which means they are woefully deceived. I read of one account from Amir Tsarfati's Telegram page where one particular terrorist was killed by IDF soldiers and the severed head of a Jewish baby was found on him. Apparently, he was taking it home as a "trophy."

Other reports tell of Jewish civilian women who were kidnapped and then horrifically raped and tortured. Their lives ended either with a knife to their crotches or being shot in the crotch with the bullet exiting out their head. Many deny these atrocities and at least some of them consider themselves Christians. Yet, they claim Israel is the aggressor.

It seems clear enough that Hamas does not want this information getting out, but it is reasonable to assume that this is why Israel will not agree to any further cease fires. They went through one and Hamas broke that cease fire. IDF soldiers continue to find dead Jewish bodies when they uncover intricate underground tunnels. They remove the dead and do their best to forensically identify the bodies, then they destroy the tunnel network. Many of these tunnels are not only built under hospitals, but under schools and average homes in Gaza. The idea is that if Israel does attack these structures, then Hamas can blame them for killing "innocent" people. The innocent people are normally Hamas terrorists dressed in civilian clothing.

Israel has uncovered caches of bombs, rifles, and other military artillery housed in places where children play and live. Innocent lives don't matter to Hamas as long as the goal of killing Jews is reached.

We are living in an age where the beliefs of Hitler and his Nazis has once again become part of the accepted vernacular of today. It's okay that Ukraine has Nazis. It's okay that Hamas supports Nazism. Too many people today think it's fine. They really believe Jews are the source of problems in the world today. It's mind-boggling to me that so many people can actually believe this tripe.

So between the US' tremendous debt, the fact that millions of people illegally in the USA support Hamas and are willing to wreak havoc to make that known, and the many other problems facing this nation, it's a good bet that America will experience major problems in 2024. But you've been doing what you can to stock up on things, make connections in your community and in general, do what you can to help yourself, correct?

Investigative journalist Leo Hohmann has a number of well-written, thought-provoking articles that provide insight into 2024. He's no prophet either and never claims to be but his insight is worth noting. One article - Assessing 2023 and a few predictions for 2024 - offers a serious look at what might become part of this new year and worth the read. [1]

His most recent article - When the deep state speaks, we should listen - offers his view on something Catherine Herridge recently stated.[2]

She says the U.S. will have "a national-security event with high impact that's very hard to predict," pointing to ongoing wars and U.S. division as factors creating "fertile ground for our adversaries like North Korea, China and Iran" to take advantage of.

Essentially, Leo refers to Herridge as a deep state mouthpiece. After all, she did work "20-plus years as the chief intelligence correspondent for Fox News" until 2019. So, according to Herridge, the United States will have a high-impact national security event. The globalists have been warning us of cyberattacks to come that may affect the electric grid throughout the USA. If this happens (and why wouldn't it?), then most of us will be off-grid to some extent and it would appear that this would place everyone in the position of being dependent on those who control the grid. What do they hope to gain from such an event?

Well gee, could we expect an attack on our critical structure caused by a cyberattack? That's what the movie, Leave the World Behind (produced by the Obamas), seems to indicate. Of course, it could just be a movie, right? Interestingly, as Joseph Mercola points out, the movie slips in a point specifically addressing "conspiracy theories" that espouse the idea that powerful people run this planet.

A conspiracy theory about a shadow group of people running the world is far too lazy of an explanation, especially when the truth is far scarier. No one is in control. No one is pulling the strings. When an event like this happens, the best even the most powerful people can hope for is a heads-up.[3]

It would be a bit ridiculous of us to believe that with so much evidence from Klaus Schwab alone. Maybe it's best to at least get some things in order in potential preparation for what might be planned.

There's also talk of huge problems upcoming with water as well. Not sure exactly how that might play out but we can be assured it would be severe. The WEF (again) is currently talking about it and warning that there will be water problems in the future.[4] Everything is going bad. Everything is on the brink to hear the controlbalists tell it. Again, I have come to the conclusion that a number of the 21 judgments in Revelation 6-18 are the result of humanity messing with God's Creation. This world will get what it plays for and I think we can be sure of that. Between Bill Gates' drive to release modified mosquitos, the modRNA shots being pushed, the fact that farmers need to be eliminated and other things as well, it seems clear that some people believe they're God. However, they truly have no real understanding of the damage they are causing with these ridiculous experiments all in order to gain control over global society and eliminate as many people as they can in the process.

I doubt seriously controlbalists will opt for another major fear campaign over a virus, though that could be part of it what they have planned. Too many are waking up to problems associated with the modRNA jab, which is essentially creating VAIDS in people. Even those in the military are now coming together to seek the court-martial of the higher ups who forced enlisted men and women to be experimented on with the modRNA jab. Many of whom took it and are suffering but the military turns a deaf ear. Insurance companies are not paying because they say since it was an experimental shot, it falls outside the purview of the insurance company.

So another stand-alone pandemic won't be in the offing. But a major electric grid problem, water woes or both? Now, that could work, but if not, there's always the continuing push toward WWIII. Any of these will cause fear and pandemonium throughout society, not to mention tremendous casualties. People have become so dependent on cell phones, electricity and other modern conveniences that they have no idea how to survive without those things.

I cannot imagine that 2024 will be easy. This November we've got a presidential election and it seems clear enough that the powers that be cannot allow Trump to be part of that process. Whether or not their efforts backfire remains to be seen, but they're certainly trying every fascist move they can try. I don't even know if I'd vote for Trump frankly, because he pushed the warp speed jab and his ability to choose those within his own administration wisely is very poor. But the powers that be are building this to a crescendo to cause us to think they are scared of Trump and can't ever have him in office again.

The truth appears to be that they are not scared at all, but are merely playing a game to make us think they are scared. If Trump is such a monkey wrench in their goals, they could easily deal with the problem and while that might cause some civil unrest, I doubt that it would be beyond their control. In the meantime, they must act as though they are weak and cannot control or contain Trump. They'll use Trump as the excuse for a major cyber attack on the grid or whatever it is they're planning for this fall to avoid having elections maybe? The ultimate goal is to install digital currencies and much surveillance.

I'm really sick of it but I'm also determined not to play their game. Instead, I'll remain awake, deal with what's going on in my life and our kids and grand kids and not get too concerned about the things I cannot control. I will then also focus on the Lord and what He is accomplishing, which generally brings me back to passages like this:

1 Do not fret because of evildoers,
Nor be envious of the workers of iniquity.
2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass,
And wither as the green herb.
3 Trust in the Lord, and do good;
Dwell in the land, and feed on His faithfulness.
4 Delight yourself also in the Lord,
And He shall give you the desires of your heart.
5 Commit your way to the Lord,
Trust also in Him,
And He shall bring it to pass. (Psalm 37:1-5 NKJV)

The evildoers can do what they want to do and they are. We should not take the time to worry over their schemes, nor should we wind up envying them either. They face eternal hell and their entire lives amount to nothing but withering like every green herb eventually withers and dies.

The Christian's job is to trust the Lord and continue to do good (His will). We also have the promise that if we learn to sit down on the inside, trusting Him for His provision, we will feed on His faithfulness. He will give us the desires of our heart as those desires are in line with His will. Daily, we should commit our way to the Lord, to continue to exercise trust in Him and His provision and He shall bring it to pass.

This doesn't mean we do nothing. We should look at things logically and determine for instance, if we have enough food that will get us through several weeks if the grid goes down? Simply take stock of your life and see what, if any holes there might be to fill.

Take time to enjoy the things in life you can enjoy - family, friends, walks in nature, good food, etc. Essentially, don't stop living by worrying. Continue reading His Word daily. Read early church fathers to learn how they dealt with the pressures of being a Christian during terrible times. Don't put your faith in any specific human being to save the USA. Support what God is ultimately going to accomplish in Israel. Finally, let's all be Great Commission Christians - time is drawing short.

- [1] <https://leohohmann.substack.com/p/assessing-2023-and-a-few-predictions>
- [2] <https://leohohmann.substack.com/p/when-the-deep-state-speaks-we-should>
- [3] leave-the-world-behind-pdf
- [4] https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1bw0gjFxu_w