It is the duty of man to acquaint himself with God . . .
because therein is the improvement of his highest excellency . . .

□ Now what is this excellency of man?
Is it not that he is made in a capacity of knowing God,
and enjoying God,
and having communion with God?
□ This is the height of his glory.

If we refuse acquaintance with God,
it is the slighting of the greatest of all the mercies God bestows.

□ It concerns us to acquaint ourselves with God,
for without it,
we are in a necessity
□ of sin and misery.

James Janeway (17th century English Puritan)

Offerings are collected on the literature table.

OUR CHURCH

We are a congregation of the Free Church of Scotland (Continuing), which has a presbytery in North America. The Free Church traces its historical roots back to the Protestant Reformation in Scotland, which began in 1560. The same biblical truths and spiritual identity have been maintained to the present day. Our doctrinal standards are the original 17th century version of the Westminster Confession of Faith and Larger and Shorter Catechisms. Further detailed information about our doctrine, worship, government, and practice are available on the book table and in the church library.
