8. There seems to be a _____ between the four horseman in Rev. 6:1-8 and Jesus's description of "the beginning of sorrows" in Matthew 24.

Revelation 6:9-17

When the Lamb opens the next two seals the results are very different from the first four seals. No beasts announce the events (Rev. 6:1, 3, 5, 7), and no horses and riders are seen. The result of the fifth seal is seen in heaven, and the result of the sixth seal is felt on earth.

Two important questions are asked as a result of the opening of these two seals. One question is asked by saved people, and one is asked by unsaved people -

1. How long until God's vengeance falls on the earth?
2. Who can stand it when it does?

Revelation 6:9-11

The opening of the fifth seal reveals a scene in heaven. John sees the souls of martyrs gathered in a special place and hears them pray for the Lord to avenge their deaths. It's probable they were martyred during the Seventieth Week of Daniel. From the murder of Abel (Gen. 4:10) onward, there has been an increasing heavenly chorus of cries for justice to be served on this world. It seems so long delayed. When will the just and holy God finally set things right?

The answer is, of course, when Jesus returns as King and Satan's world system is replaced by the Messiah's. The first advent of Christ resulted in the "Day of Salvation," and the return of Christ results in the "Day of Vengeance." (Isaiah 61:1-2 and Luke 4:16-21) The answer to their question is, "Not yet, but soon." (Rev. 6:11)

Revelation 6:12-17

The opening of the sixth seal marks a turning point. So far the disasters of war and famine can be attributed to the human race's own folly. As the earlier plagues in Egypt could be mimicked by the magicians of Egypt, the moment had not yet arrived when the world recognized it was the definitive hand of God at work. The sixth seal dramatically changes all that. The earthquake and signs in the heavens have attention getting power the first four seals lacked. The terror of that which is truly uncontrollable by people brings forth a realization from the world not found in the first four seals. The very scope of the worldwide disasters is unprecedented. This is the finger of God Himself! Let's hide!

In an example of "foxhole religion," the unsaved seek cover when no cover can hide them from what they know the world deserves. Like Pharaoh, they're impressed and distressed; but like Pharaoh, it's only temporary.
