"The Word of the Lord is... sweeter than honey." Psalm 19

Dear friends in Christ,

- Between Christmas and moving to another house recently, our discipleship and counselling schedule has been irregular. We've picked up our meetings again with Du and Fa, and Nt. We are also scheduled to meet with Ca and Ma, a young unmarried couple, this evening, who don't appear to know Christ.
- This morning we had a good fellowship time with the men from the church over breakfast in our home.
- We enjoyed having a pastor friend and his wife visit from a supporting church this week.
- We thank God for a rich time with family and friends over the Christmas holidays.
- My residency renewal was accepted. Amy and the kids were asked for more papers (though we submitted the same thing). It is the second time they ask us for more papers for them.
- I had a meeting with our architect and the municipal architect this past Wednesday. We found out about another step we need to take before submitting the plans to the city. Based on that, it looks like we will be able to start the building renovations in about two months.
- The family is doing well. We do feel a need for wisdom in parenting!

Prayers and praises:

- Please pray for God's saving and sanctifying work in those who we counsel and do Bible studies with, and in our church body as a whole.
- We thank God that my residency renewal was accepted, and ask for prayers that Amy's and the kids' residency would be renewed without problems.
- Please pray for the church renovation project to go forward unhindered, and for the remainder of the funds that we need to come in. We are grateful that we received a generous donation for the project.
- We thank God for being able to be first-time home owners.
- Please pray that God would save our children.
- Please pray for Amy's health.

As always, we're grateful for your prayers.

Grace and Peace,

Jeremie, Amy, and the kids
