

Equipping the Saints
Taking Time to Change by Jim Berg – pages 32-33

Introduction

I. Identify the mask of rebellion you manifest the most.

- A. The _____ rebel says, “I _____ obey. Nobody is going to tell me what to do.”
- B. The _____ rebel says, “I _____ obey since it gets me what I want.” This mask has two variations.
1. One type of cooperative rebel is _____, at best.
  2. Another type of cooperative rebel appears to be driven by a sense of _____: as a child he is often called a “really _____ kid.”
- C. The _____ rebel shows up in three variations.
1. “I _____ obey.” (Perry)
  2. “I _____ to obey.” (Janet)
  3. “I _____ _____ to obey.” (Josh)

II. Rejoice in the hope offered through Christ.

- A. The Scriptures teach us that God has a certain kind of change in mind for _____ of us.
- B. We can begin to change by becoming more accustomed to looking beyond our own behavior and emotions and asking ourselves, “What is the _____ _____ in my heart right now that is driving this behavior or emotion?”

Conclusion:
