Closing Thought: Jesus gave a Gospel invitation to the crowd at The Feast of Tabernacles, promising them the rivers of living waters, eternal life, via the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. All they had to do was forsake their self-righteousness, acknowledging their unquenchable thirst, and to come to Him and drink. Jesus Christ will divide those who are sheep, God's elect, and those who are goats, the reprobate hardened in their rebellion. If you are still dead in your sins, come to Christ and drink of the eternal life found in Him.
