SERMON NOTES

Who Told You?

Speaker: Pastor Ken Edean

Text: Genesis 3:11

Failure to heed God's Word results in devastating consequences.

- I. The wrong source of information will lead to _____ —v. 6
- II. The unwise decisions will lead to _____ of God—v. 7
- III. Ineffective responses will lead to _____ examination—vv. 8-10
- IV. Guilty sinners _____ excuses—vv. 11-13

Personal Applications

To avoid the devastating consequences of wrong thinking and behavior, you must...

- I. Humbly _____ your sin and _____ to the Lord.
- II. Consistently examine the source of your information and _____ _____ God's Word.
- III. Carefully evaluate the impact of your _____ in order to stay close to God.
- IV. Regularly acknowledge and confess your _____ in order to restore fellowship with God.

The _____ you listen to will have a profound impact on your _____ and ultimately determine your _____ destiny.

FURTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Genesis 3:1-11

Why is God's question in verse 11 significant? What are the different sources of information presented in these verses? What are some possible emotions that Adam and Eve may have experienced by their disobedience? In what ways is the emotional impact of sin seen in people's lives today? How are unbiblical ideas spread today? What makes these ideas seem acceptable? In what ways did sin destroy the harmony in Adam and Eve's marital relationship? How do you see sin harming relationships today?

Psalm 1

What are the two sources of influence presented in this psalm? What are the differing results from heeding these sources? What can you learn about the Lord's involvement in the life of the person who delights in His Word? How can Psalm 119:24 & 128 encourage you to seek God's way?

Genesis 3:12-23

What excuses did Adam and Eve offer? Whom did God hold accountable for the disobedience in the Garden? How is God's mercy evidenced in these verses? Genesis 3:15 is considered to be the first statement of the Gospel message. What hope can you glean from this verse? People all around you are trying to make life work, but they are getting their information from the wrong sources. Will you pray for opportunities to share the hope of Christ with someone this week?
