

The King's Herald

Matthew 3:1-6 | 06.09.19

His Location (1)

- What apparent limitations have you encountered in your location or your vocation?
- How is God helping you to overcome those limitations or gain a new perspective that has enabled you to be a better herald for the king?

His Message (2)

- How do you call people to repent and believe when they already view themselves as good people?
- Is it legitimate to call people to repent with the motivation of a day of coming judgment? Why or why not?

His Mission (3)

- Ultimately, what is our role in people's conversion? How does this influence the way we approach our heralding responsibility?

His Lifestyle (4)

- In what ways (good or bad) could our lifestyle influence our witness?

His Audience (5)

- How might John's example influence the way a church designs gospel outreach opportunities?

His Baptism (6)

- What does the picture of John's baptism illustrate about the act of conversion?
- How might this impact the way we herald the gospel?

The King's Herald

Matthew 3:1-6 | 06.09.19

His Location (1)

- What apparent limitations have you encountered in your location or your vocation?
- How is God helping you to overcome those limitations or gain a new perspective that has enabled you to be a better herald for the king?

His Message (2)

- How do you call people to repent and believe when they already view themselves as good people?
- Is it legitimate to call people to repent with the motivation of a day of coming judgment? Why or why not?

His Mission (3)

- Ultimately, what is our role in people's conversion? How does this influence the way we approach our heralding responsibility?

His Lifestyle (4)

- In what ways (good or bad) could our lifestyle influence our witness?

His Audience (5)

- How might John's example influence the way a church designs gospel outreach opportunities?

His Baptism (6)

- What does the picture of John's baptism illustrate about the act of conversion?
- How might this impact the way we herald the gospel?