QUOTES

"If there are a million roads into Hell, there's not one road out."

Leonard Ravenhill

"There is no doctrine which I would more willingly remove from Christianity than this, if it lay in my power. . . . I would pay any price to be able to say truthfully, 'All will be saved.'"

C S Lewis

On the eternity of Hell: "All arithmetic here fails, no rules of multiplication can reach the amount, for there is no end."

Jonathan Edwards

Daniel Webster once when asked, "You have a colossal mind, what is greatest thought you have ever had?", he answered, "I've thought about many things, but the most awesome, the most terrifying, the most shattering thought I've ever had, is my personal accountability to God one day."

"What a subtle tempter Satan is. What a deceitful thing sin is. What a foolish creature corrupted man is. A subtle tempter indeed, who can persuade the greatest part of the world to go willfully into everlasting fire, when they have so many warnings and dissuasives as they have. A deceitful thing is sin indeed, that can bewitch so many thousands to part with everlasting life, for a thing so base and utterly unworthy! A foolish creature is man indeed, who will be so cheated of his salvation for nothing, yea, for a known nothing; and that by an enemy and a known enemy. You would think it impossible that any man in his wits should be persuaded for a trifle to cast himself into the fire, or water, or into a cold pit, to the destruction of his life. And yet men will be enticed to cast themselves into hell."

Richard Baxter

"It is the anguish of such a sense of condemnation, in the anguish of a conscience that stings with the apprehension of the wrath and curse of God, that the gospel of God's free grace becomes as cold water to a thirsty soul and as good news from a far country."

John Murray

"O could we but perceive a thousandth part of the horror that is contained in an eternal hell, an eternal banishment from the face and favor of God, and the eternal impressions of His anger, we should never give ourselves rest one moment, till we had returned to God by a sincere repentance, and were reconciled to Him that made us; till we fled for refuge to the blood of Jesus, and to His sanctifying grace, which is the only hope that is set before us. We should never give ourselves leave to lie down, or awake in quiet while we were destitute of a saving interest in the salvation of Christ, and had attained to some clear evidence of it, and a well-grounded hope."

Isaac Watts

"God stamp eternity in my eyeballs."

Jonathan Edwards
