We Exult in our Tribulations
Rom. 5:1-5

That is the glorious _____ of those who presently stand in grace through our Lord Jesus Christ.

To boast in the hope of future glory is _____ and good! But Paul says something that is altogether strange sounding to our ears... There is something to boast in now, in this _____ age.

We also boast in our _____

Knowing - the ground or the cause of why we _____ in our tribulations!

Tribulation works/effects/produces _____

Oh how many murmur and complain against _____ when they encounter trials and affliction!

The perspective I must have: God is teaching me _____ and endurance through this trial.

The patience and perseverance learning through _____ produce something else - proven character.

Going through the test validates the _____.

"Our experience of the Lord's goodness in the past leads us on to hope for still greater things in the _____, and thus, experience works hope." Charles Spurgeon

So we glory in our afflictions because we have a view of the future, we have hope that pain and suffering does not have the _____

In light of the hope of the glory of God, tribulations can't compare, they are light, they are momentary, they are producing a future _____ of glory.
