

A dark, textured stone wall with a prominent cross-shaped opening in the center. The opening is formed by several rectangular stone blocks, some of which are lighter in color than the surrounding wall. The lighting is dramatic, with the wall appearing mostly in shadow, highlighting the texture of the stones and the edges of the cross opening.

We will see two very different spiritual attitudes that result in two very different eternal outcomes

1. If we are proud and self-righteous God will condemn us
2. If we are humble and helpless God will justify us
